THE SGD AWARDS 2014

SHORTLISTED FINALISTS

In association with

After the first two highly successful SGD Awards ceremonies, preparations are well under way for this year's celebration of the finest in UK garden design. There are 23 shortlisted finalists and these are the entries now in the running for an award

There has been another very good response this year, with some excellent projects submitted across the full range of categories. The awards were judged by a main judging panel supported by specialist judges. They then undertook a series of visits to selected shortlisted gardens to determine the category winners – and to choose the project that deserves the coveted SGD Grand Award. We've showcased the shortlisted entries on these pages. For more information, go to www.sgdlawards.com

The People's Choice Award

The shortlisted gardens from the Residential, International, Public and Communal and Pocket Garden categories will be entered into the People's Choice Awards, which is being run by the SGD Awards media partner, Homes & Gardens magazine. Look out for details of how to vote in the November issue of GDJ.
